FOREWORD

Living as we do in the great Pacific Northwest we thought it only fitting to use an Indian theme for the 1960 Cat Log.

Our Indian heritage has enriched our lives and added character to our area. Traces of the culture and legends remain, but most evident is the rich treasure of names left by the Red Men.

Our own county, Kitsap (meaning "brave"), was named for a Suquamish chief. Neighboring towns of Seattle and Tacoma received their names from Indians. Who can forget the river names Skokomish, Dosewallips, Quillcene, or the Puget Sound ferries Kalakala, Chinook, Chippewa, Klickitat, Nisqually, or our parks, Twanoh and Illahee?

We are grateful to our Indian friends for the distinctive names they have given us.

ENGLISH BACKGROUND OFFERED IS ESSENTIAL TO EVERY STUDENT

Diane Roland and Sue Root work diligently in the library card file for information on their sophomore vocational research themes.

Boys who are respectful of good craftsmanship in autos and hi-fi equipment or girls who have acquired a sense of style in clothes, should also be able to see the necessity for using their own language with precision and discrimination. If it makes sense for us to take pride in our fine musical groups and our award-winning athletes, it should be equally important for us at least to take an equal pride in understanding others and in being understood. We, of course, must read and explain ourselves in almost all of our classes, but the English department is charged specifically with the responsibility for developing within us a desire to speak and write correctly and effectively, and to read with understanding and appreciation.

Aside from the six required courses, we may elect courses in grammar review (Composition IV), intensive writing practice (Composition V), English literature (Literature IV), increasing our speed and comprehension (Developmental Reading), Journalism, Public Speaking and Drama. Even though English courses are not required of seniors, college-bound students have been generally quick to see the need for additional writing experience. In our required classes, because an attempt has been made to decrease their size, teachers have been more able to help us correct our individual weaknesses and require us to articulate what we sense, to interpret what we sense, to interpret what we investigate, to analyze facts, and to produce ideas.

MORE LANGUAGES AT WEST GO HAND-IN-HAND WITH SPACE AGE

In keeping with the national trend, West High students are becoming tremendously interested in foreign languages. This is evidenced by the fact that this year there are six French, four German, nine Spanish, five Latin classes, and one Russian class.

This year for the first time a third year of Spanish, French and German are being offered. The purpose of these courses is to increase oral fluency and reading ability. Another advanced course being taken by West High students is Russian, which is taken at Olympic College. Three students from West travel to East for third-year German, while two students from East take third-year French at West.

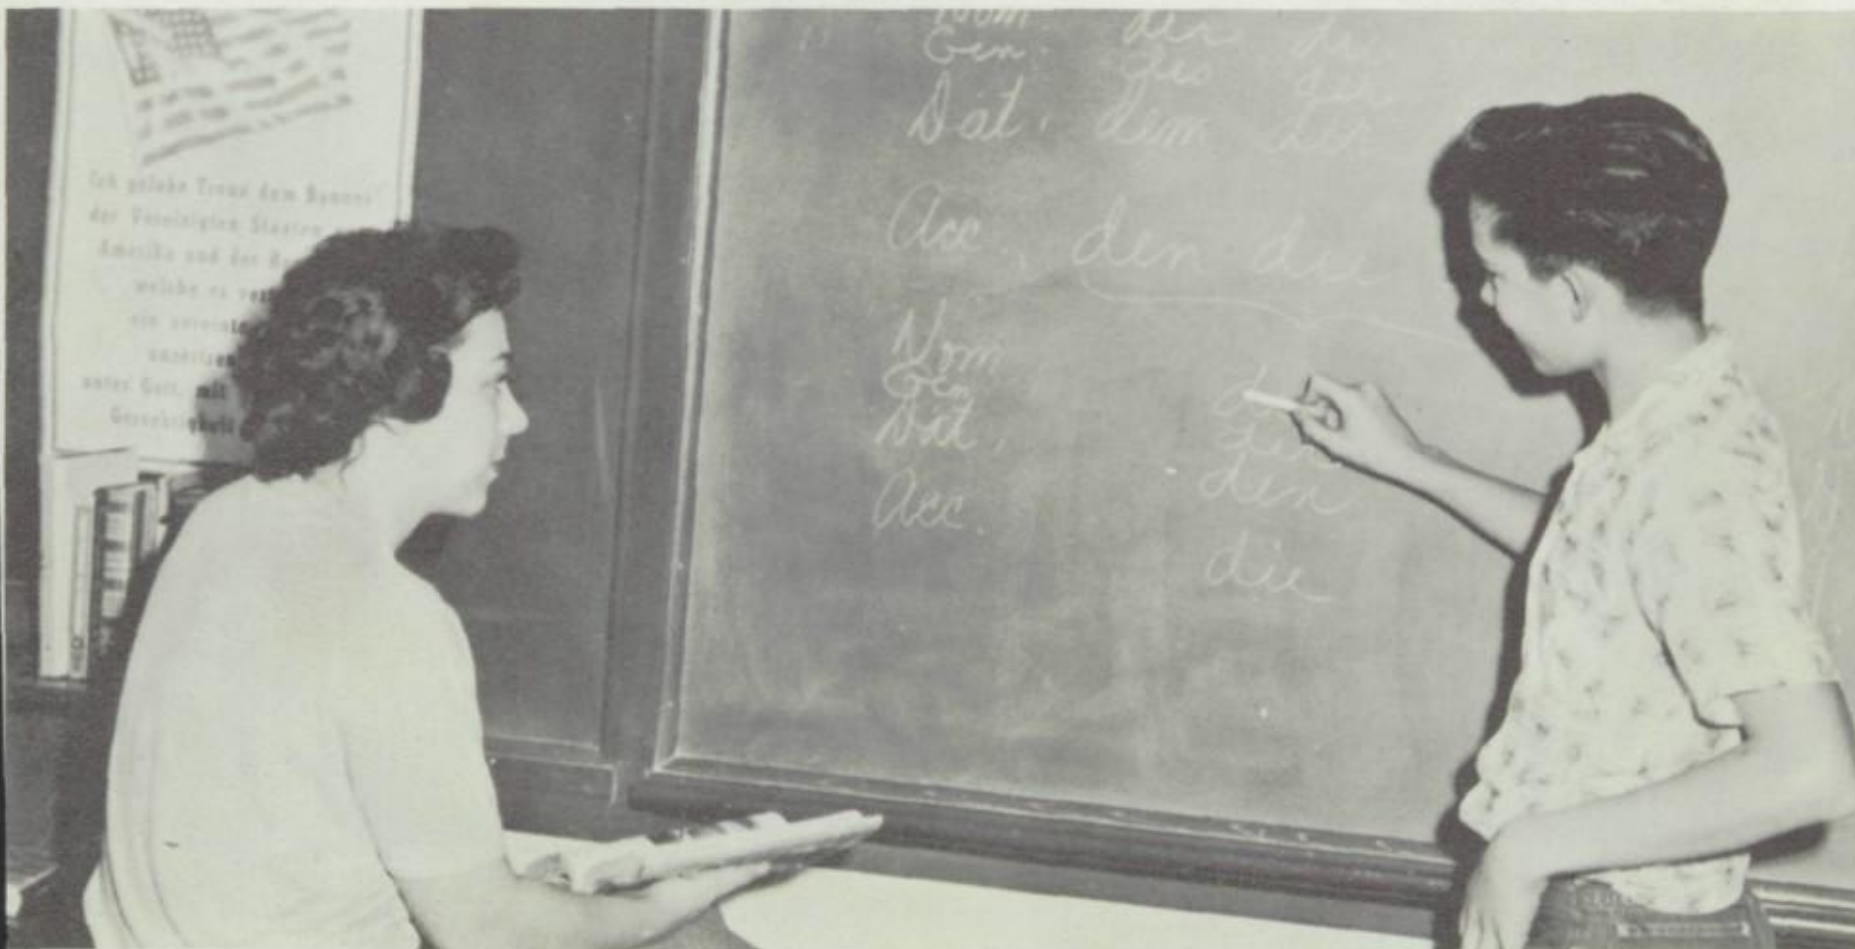

The United States government now offers scholarships to teachers of foreign languages so that they may improve their teaching techniques. Many current oral teaching methods are being investigated and employed by teachers in our language department. Miss Betty Anderson, German teacher, spent last summer at a government language institute at the University of Washington.

Future plans for the department include a listening and recording language laboratory. In third-year Spanish the tape-recorder has already been used and found to be a very satisfactory method. Next year the foreign language department is expected to be bigger than ever. Through this added interest West High students show that they are willing and able to face the future in an expanding world.

SCIENTIFIC KNOWLEDGE AIDS STUDENTS IN THEIR EVERYDAY LIFE

Margaret Linden watches intently as Larry Gillespie performs a physics experiment on Boyle's law.

*Sandy,
We have had a lot of fun together this year.
I hope I'll see you after graduation. Have fun this summer.
Love
Dad*

David Ridgeway, Bonnie Bass and Jack Davies examine a cactus plant in their botany class.

It has often been said that we are living in the age of science. If this is true, then certainly a great many of our students at West High School are going to feel right at home in our world of the future, for almost one-half of the students are enrolled in a science this year.

This program has a two-fold purpose. First, college-bound students can benefit a great deal from adequate high school preparation. Secondly, students who do not plan to continue their formal education beyond high school graduation can profit greatly by gaining a better understanding of themselves and the world in which they will live.

General science has as its goal introducing the student to a wide range of scientific topics, from bugs and bacteria to stars and space ships to weather and X-rays.

Biology, botany and zoology are designed to give the student an appreciation and a working knowledge of the living world and man's place in that world.

Physics and chemistry enable the student to understand his physical surroundings that are becoming increasingly important to man. This includes such things as atoms, molecules, heat, light, sound and radioactivity.

All of these things, we feel, will lead us to a better, happier, and fuller life.

MATHEMATICS, SOCIAL STUDIES INTRODUCE PUPILS TO WORLD

A mathematics department must provide the mathematical tools needed in everyday living. General and business mathematics are designed to achieve this goal. Second, it must provide a foundation for those who will be taking mathematics and science in college. Our third and fourth-year courses help prepare students for such advanced work.

The mathematics program has been undergoing modernization in the past several years. We can be proud of these and other improvements to meet the demands of the Space Age.

Six semester courses in social studies are required of all students for graduation in order to understand rapidly changing concepts of space in a sputnik age. Freshmen are required to study one-half year of geography. They also must take Washington history and civics. Juniors study United States history in order that they may interpret the historical, social and economic forces that will affect them during the '60's. Seniors take government and world affairs to enable them to participate in democratic processes and to understand the two great systems and their satellites that are competing for world domination.

Students who wish may elect to take social living, a life adjustment course.

Dixie Miller is pointing out the scene of African racial violence to her World Affairs classmate Ron Marshall.

Advertising is just a phase of work in distributive education. Here, Bobbi More and Ron Wright paint a sign advertising a Retailer's car wash.

To meet the growing demand for typing, nine beginning and two advanced classes were offered. A personal typing class designed primarily for college-bound students was offered in the second semester.

The department offers limited assistance to students in obtaining employment.

Courses offered in this department include the following: first and second-year typing, personal typing, first and second-year steno, office practice, commercial law, and business arithmetic.

Open to seniors interested in retail selling and merchandising as a career, distributive education was taken by thirty students this year. Students must be employed on a part-time basis in a work experience program. Two hours each day of classwork in related fields of subject matter is included.

We are now living in the "motor age," and 15 per cent of our drivers are between fifteen and twenty-five years of age. It is the objective of the drivers' education course to better educate the young drivers of today in the proper and safe way to drive, thus helping to reduce the increasing number of accidents throughout the nation. The course consists of 36 hours of classroom instruction and six hours of practice driving.

COMMERCIAL, DRIVING, RETAILING CLASSES OFFER USEFUL TRAINING

Be careful! Drivers' Education student Glenn Chamberlain makes his first attempt at maneuvering the car into parking space as instructor Wayne Jensen gives advice.

MUSIC, ART COURSES AID STUDENTS IN EXPLORING CULTURAL WORLD

At West High three instrumental and three vocal music classes are offered for one hour each day. This time is spent mostly in practice for contests, concerts, and other public appearances.

Girls' Glee Club is open to inexperienced singers. Choir members are selected by the director by recommendation or try-outs. Most select of the groups is the Modernaires. To be chosen as a members of the Mods is considered a high honor, for this group is in great demand for performances.

Second band provides training to help students prepare for the first band. A student aspiring to join the first band must meet certain skill requirements. This group spends many extra hours practicing for its many activities. Eligibility for the orchestra is determined by the director and is based on interest and skill of the student. A popular string orchestra was formed for the first time this year.

This year the beginning art classes worked on basic design and learned to use a wide variety of media in experimental projects. The advanced classes engaged in three dimensional design, advertising, and fine art technique as used in modern painting. The more experienced and qualified students continued their work on a huge oil painting project in the social room, a mural depicting activities of the Northwest.

Jerry Lee Wilson and Bill Mackem put to use the fundamentals of design that they have learned in art class as they prepare this attractive bulletin board display.

HOMEMAKING, SHOPS AND PHYSICAL EDUCATION TEACH SKILLS

In our homemaking department girls learn about planning, preparing and serving meals; constructing and choosing clothing that they will enjoy wearing and that meets their activity needs; managing money and time; making their homes convenient, comfortable, safe and attractive; and caring for and understanding children.

Since the great majority of students graduating from high school must fill jobs in industry, we feel that a well-rounded shop program is a must. While we do not produce a finished mechanic, our program offers a great variety of experiences in auto mechanics, machine shop, radio, woodworking, drafting.

This year the girls' physical education program centered around fitness. Activities that helped improve fitness were added to the program to enable each girl to improve her performance.

The boys' physical education program is divided into two parts: physical fitness activities and sports program. The physical fitness activities include muscle building, exercises and running. The sports program consists of marching, football, relays, wrestling, speedball, basketball, tumbling, softball, track, and other gym games.

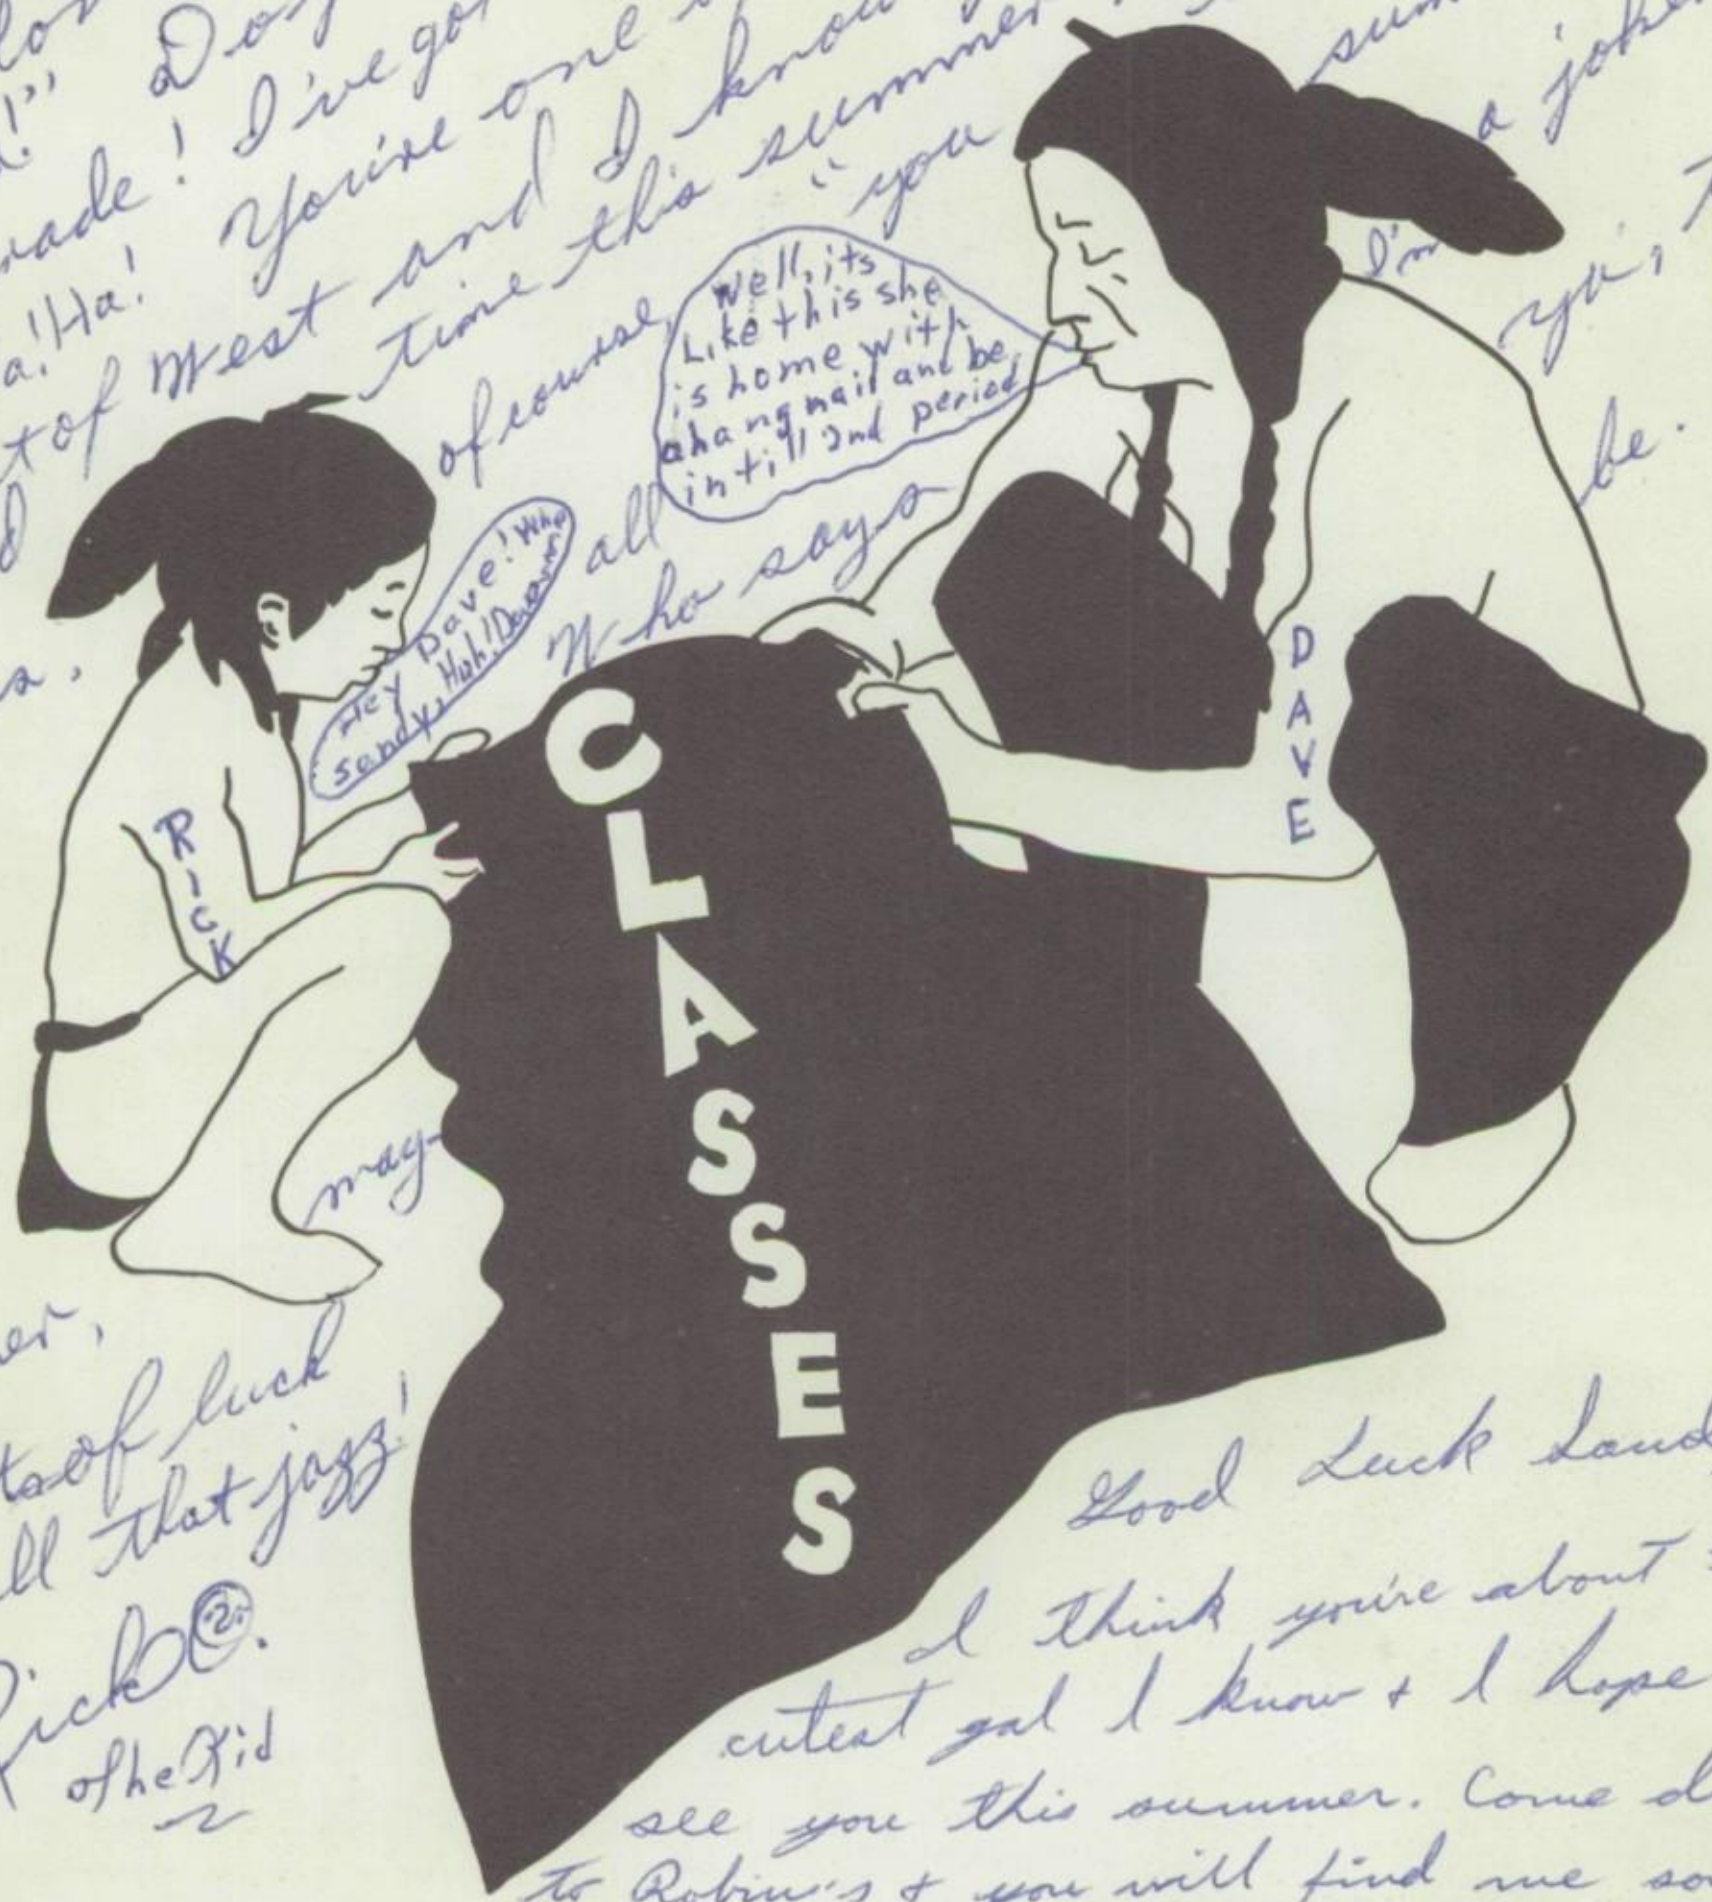

Experienced seamstresses may take third-year sewing. Shown here is Kathy Strong pinning the hem in Sharon Hall's skirt.

THEIR LEADERS GUIDED CLASS OF '60 THRU PROSPEROUS YEAR

One of the biggest steps in their lives was in the fall of 1956, when they entered West High School as the first freshman class.

The freshman class officers were: Gary Gius, President; Diane McNalley, Vice President; Sandra Little, Secretary; Bonnie Olsen, Treasurer; Peggy Haddon as Student Council Representative, and Mr. Wade was their adviser.

Their sophomore class officers were: Dennis Hudson, President; Nancy Boustead, Vice President; Sandra Little, Secretary; Judy Loga, Treasurer; Gail Fowler, Student Council Representative and their adviser was Mr. Whitford.

The junior class officers were: John Peterson, President; Merridee Funk, Vice President; Judie Parker, Secretary; Gail Fowler, Treasurer; Emilie Bailey, Student Council Representative and Mr. Summers and Miss Dent were their advisers.

Under the capable leadership of their senior class officers: Gary Gius, President; Carolyn Reese, Secretary; Marilyn Reese, Treasurer; and Jo Ann Streenan, Student Council Representative, they realized their senior year was fast approaching as they made their picture appointments. Their senior play "Nuts in May" was enjoyed by all. The highlight of their senior year was the Senior Ball. The ceilings were lowered with fish nets; draped palm trees and orchids help depict the theme, "Bali Hai." Hours of work and planning, with cooperation from the officers, members of committees, and the fine help of Mr. Summers made the dance a most memorable and successful one.

They chose as their Senior Couple Susan Maughan and Joe Fletcher.

As their school year closed they enjoyed the Senior Sneak, Senior Tea, Baccalaureate, and Commencement Exercises.

So they say good-bye to their teachers and their underclassmen and wish the latter as much fun as they had in their high school life.

The officers of the Junior Class of 1960 planned carefully the year's events. The Junior Class Assembly and the Junior Prom were discussed at after school and Sunday meetings.

At their assembly, the juniors had a chance to show off their talented classmates. The tumbling team, including juniors Dick Carpenter, Dick Bush, Fred Fitzwater, and Bob Newbill; two dances, juniors Carol Blockhus in one, and Nancy Muller in the other; a piano duet by Dianne Howe and Daryl Spadaccini; a beatnik group, owned and operated by their class president; and three majorettes performed.

Their biggest event was the Junior Prom, which was held March 26. With their advisers, Miss Dent and Mr. Stensland, the officers chose the theme "Midnight Cruise." The chairmen of the committees, including Betty Isley, Decoration; Margaret Irwin, Publicity and Program; Judy Housel and Faye LaFerney, Pictures and Entertainment; and Karen Domstad, Refreshment Chairman, worked together with the committee members to collect every idea possible to try and make this one of the best proms yet. Karen Nelson and Ken Cochran were selected Junior Couple of the affair.

The class prospered economically, socially, and physically. They sold approximately 155 rings, pins, and necklaces. The setting they chose was called "Imperial," a gold ring with a setting of white, gray, or blue Mother of Pearl, on which the emblem "W" appears in gold.

The officers watched their fellow juniors being praised for many of their fine attributes. Some received credit for their music ability, some for sports. They watched their cheer and song leaders help carry their team to success. Everywhere they looked a member of the class of '60 was being acclaimed.

Now entering their last year at W.H.S., they will cease to follow and prepare to lead.

The class of '62 planned carefully its second year of high school. With the help of their adviser, Mr. Whitford, the officers derived pleasure from serving their fellow students.

The Sophomore class had several money-making projects, including a donut and cider sale in the early fall and a Valentine donut sale. They operated the concession at the West-Stadium football game and held a Spring dance in May.

Several of the class members were outstanding in scholastic ability, music and sports. In 1959, at the beginning of the school term, about forty sophomores received certificates for outstanding performances on the National Educational Development tests they took in their freshman year. Four boys were on the varsity football team: Al Waley, Bob Beller, Herschel Housel and Don Duggins. Bob Green was the only sophomore on the varsity basketball squad. Chris Olson, Vern Reynolds, Jim Flynn and Richard Mc-Clure, were part of a newly established gymnastic team, which won national honors. There were nine boys on the wrestling team of West High: Jim Anderson, Ralph Arney, Lee Crawford, Jack Davis, Dan Hoskings, Rod Marshall, Alan Morneal, Bill Rall and Mike Starosky. Among the girls on West's drill team were sophomores, Bobbi Nestos, Sandy Stokesbary, Marian Osborne, Miriam Trudelle, Stephanie Titus, Virginia Mollick, Linda Brooks, Archelle Bouchard, Diane Mercer and Linda Graham. Also, many girls received their letters in G.A.A. at the end of the year. Sophomores, Pat Streenan and Martha Bernier were on the varsity song squad during '59 and '60. Almost every assembly had talent from the class of '62, and their efforts were greatly appreciated.

Next year's Juniors feel they have much to be proud of, and they look forward to the following years when they will take their places of leadership at West.

FROSH LEAD IN ACTIVITIES TO START OFF HIGH SCHOOL YEARS

In September, 1959, the largest freshman class in recent years entered West High School. The freshmen, coming from Coontz, and Star of the Sea, attended the ninth grade orientation several days before the start of school. At the orientation, they were introduced to the teachers and given instructions on the procedures of attending classes at the West High Annex.

In the Spring of 1959, the class elected its officers: J. D. Tamerius, President; Laurel Wolfer, Vice President; Judy Foraker, Secretary; Julie Danskin, Treasurer; and Jim Kucinski, Student Council Representative.

The freshman cheerleaders, also elected last Spring, are: Queen Joyce Reinbold, Princess Priscilla Cohen, and Princess Mary Garot. The freshmen had outstanding turnouts at all their games and with the help of their cheerleaders, they cheered their team on to many victories.

In the fall of their freshman year, the girls elected Pat Blamey and Kitsy Rosendale to represent them on the Girls' Club Cabinet.

The freshmen have a separate athletic program. They placed first in both football and basketball. Four boys who excelled in freshman sports are: Aaron Capps, Joe Burroughs, Fred Kegel, and J. D. Tamerius.

The freshman class held money raising projects to boost their treasury; they sold popcorn in the halls, operated concession stands at games, and sold programs.

The class of '63 has a great deal to look forward to in their future years at West High School.

ACTIVITIES

LEADERS OF STUDENT BODY

The executive branch of student government, which consists of A.S.B. President, Vice President, Secretary, Treasurer, Judge of Student Court and Traffic Court, and Girls and Boys Club Presidents, is the executive board. It plans the general program of activities for the school year. The group meets with Mr. Graham once a week and is responsible to the principal for its acts. Together with the Student Council and Legislative Board, it comprises the law-making branches of our student government. This board discusses prospective Student Council and Legislative Board problems and the general betterment of the school. Laws which originate in the Student Council must meet with final approval of the Executive Board. This group is constantly seeking new ideas for the improvement of the school.

TRAFFIC COURT TRIES AND PUNISHES WEST HIGH LAWBREAKERS

The Student Council is a legislative organization which discusses and decides matters pertaining to the betterment of the school and helps to amend and make school laws. It is made up of one representative from each home room with Doyle Hill presiding and Barbara Oraker acting secretary. The council has taken action on several issues including student body voting procedure, and beautifying our school property. The adviser is Mr. Graham. They meet second period every other Thursday in the Social Room.

The Traffic Court is a police court that works in close conjunction with the County Juvenile Court in Port Orchard. Students are tried in this court by Judge Ted Liner along with five co-judges in the presence of a law officer.

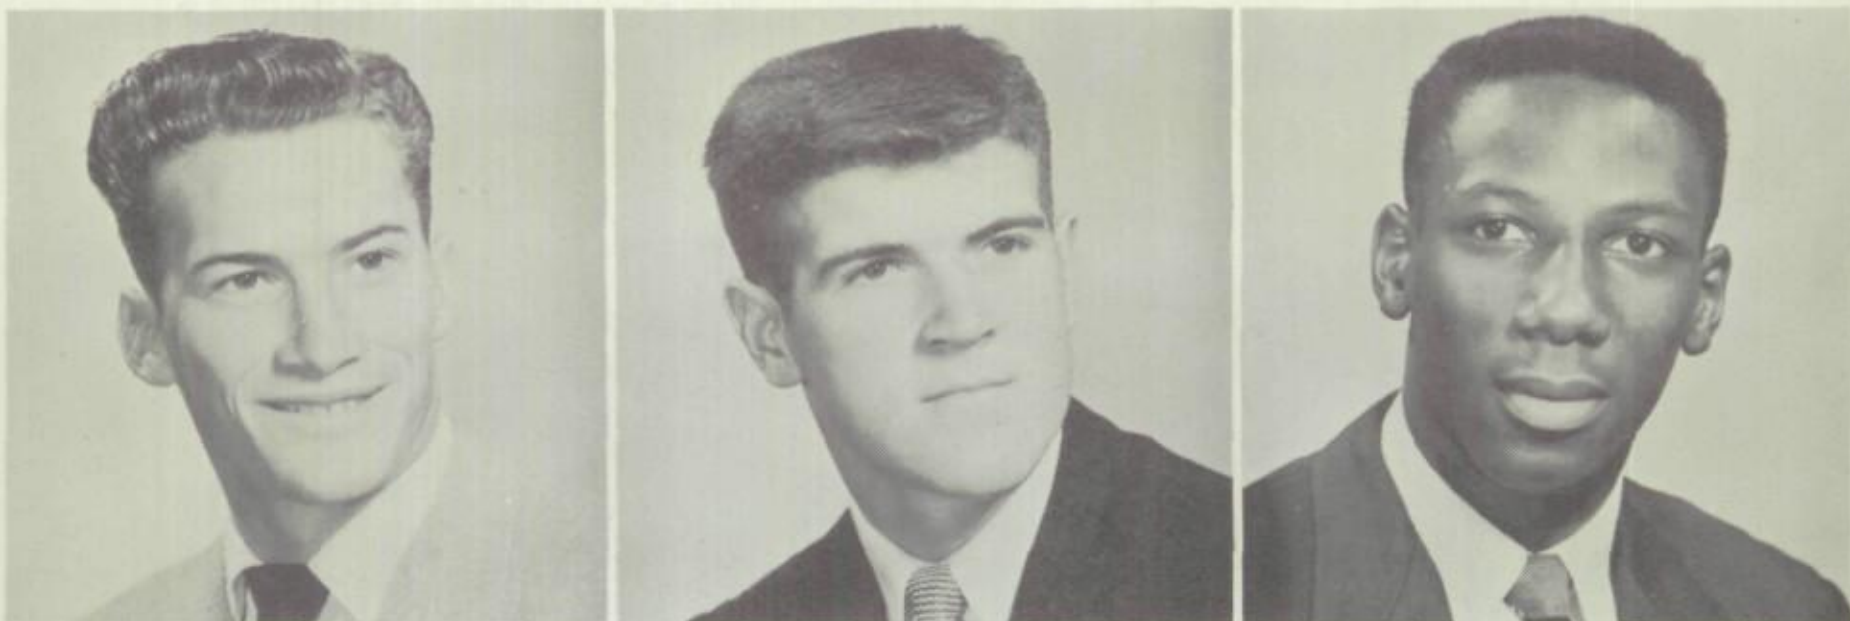

Student Court is a similar court which hears the cases of all warrant holders. Ted Liner presides with a council of jurors, prosecuting attorney, and defense attorney. If the offender pleads guilty, he is given a sentence without a trial by jury.

The Boys' Club is among the most active clubs of West High. Every boy of West High is a member of this organization. During this year, they have had many interesting assemblies, sponsored vocational conferences, helped plan the All Sports Banquet along with the Girls' Club, and presented the Student Body with a fifty star flag. These activities were administered by the Boys' Club Cabinet, which consisted of Dave Stamper, president; Dwight Cherry, vice president; Joe Fletcher, secretary-treasurer; Charlie Burrell, sergeant-at-arms; and the class presidents: Gary Gius, senior class; Mark Doubleday, junior class; Eddie Aronin, sophomore class; J. D. Tamerius, freshman class; with Mr. Hurney as the adviser.

The purpose of the Boys' Club is to build character, to develop personality, and to promote leadership among the Student Body.

GIRLS' CLUB SPONSOR TOLO WEEK, COTTON BALL, SENIOR TEA

One of the active organizations of West High School is the Girls' Club. The club is made up of all the girls in the school and is headed by the cabinet: president, Paddy Young; vice president, Sharon Craig; secretary, Nikki Norris; treasurer, Judy Housel; sophomore representatives, Becky Basner and Janine Wolfer; freshman representatives, Pat Blamey and Kitsy Rosendale; and Carol Collinson, Kathie Mathison, Marlene Forde, Barbara Losey, Judy Wold, Jean Love, Diane Scott, and Vickie Robinson.

The cabinet meets on the first three Mondays of each month to direct and carry out the various projects happening throughout the year. Along with the cabinet, the Activettes, representatives from each first period class, help to make the club run smoothly.

The Big-Little Sister Party, Senior Tea, All-Sports Banquet, Tolo Week, and a Christmas project, are just a few of the activities sponsored by the Girls' Club.

This also completes the first year for the new adviser, Mrs. Fraser.

They are elected by the girls in their first period class at the beginning of the year. Another election is held at the end of the first semester. They attend meetings once a month where they suggest money-making projects and other activities and then take the Girls' Club news back to their classes.

Some of the money-making projects in which the Activettes took part were the selling of decals, concessions, and pickles. They also helped finance a foreign exchange student.

Under the guidance and leadership of Mr.

LEADERS REPRESENT WEST AT GIRLS AND BOYS STATE

When the 1959 Girls State convened in June at Ellensburg, Sharon Craig and Paddy Young represented West High School. Here they learned about the functions of our local, state, and national government and participated in these functions. Among their activities were election of officials, a candlelight service, a talent show, legislative sessions, and a safari. Sharon was elected city commissioner, a delegate to the state party convention, and majority floor leader in the House. Paddy was a county committee woman, reading clerk in the House, and a finalist for Girls' Nation.

Some of the boys from Boys' State view Pacific Lutheran College campus.

Every year the American Legion sponsors Boys State. Approximately 450 boys from all parts of the state and from some areas in Alaska attend. The purpose of this organization is to educate future citizens about the fundamentals of government. Actual city, county, and state governments are set up on a miniature scale. Each delegate participates in the government and thus learns by doing.

This year, delegates were Gary Newbill, John Rusher, Gary Gius, and Dave Stamper. Gary Gius and Gary Newbill were both elected to the state legislative body.

Putting the school paper out every second and fourth Friday is the duty of the Lair Staff. Before the real work can begin, the reporters must go out and get reports and ideas for stories and interviews.

Next, the editor assigns the stories to the various reporters while the page editors are planning their pages. Pictures must be decided upon, arranged for, and taken.

After being written and veri-typed, the stories are ready to be cut and pasted onto the dummy pages. The stories and pictures are arranged on the pages and headlines made. The dummy pages are taken to the printer. Then the papers are folded, sorted, and distributed to all the rooms in the school.

Editing the yearbook created a valuable experience for all members of the Cat Log Class. At the beginning of the year we found ourselves with the task of learning many new terms and formulas, and we realized that the class would not be as easy as some had expected. Then we began the many hours of hard work that were necessary to produce the 1960 Cat Log.

There are two main departments in every yearbook—journalism and business. In September each member of the class was appointed a position in one of the departments. Those on the journalism staff had various duties to perform. We drew layouts for our section, wrote running titles and cutlines, and gathered copy from teachers and clubs. We soon realized that we had to choose a theme for our annual before much more work could be done. After much discussion we finally agreed on a theme and a design for the cover. When this debate was over the business department began getting advertisements, collecting money, and ordering covers.

Orchids, varying in hue from pale pink to purple, served as favors for each couple. The Senior Couple chosen were Susan Maughan and Joe Fletcher. The East High Dance Band played music that suited the tropical theme and gaily dressed couples danced around the floor or conversed at the tables.

This spring when East and West High High schools combined their efforts to produce the Broadway musical hit, "Li'l Abner," they set a precedence for being the first high schools to try a joint venture such as this.

Dogpatch, U. S. A., was the scene of the play, which centered around a government attempt to make the area a bomb-testing ground. The citizens of Dogpatch arose to prove that their town was necessary to the country. Entwined throughout the story was the romance between Li'l Abner and Daisy Mae.

The efforts of the 180 East-West students who sacrificed their time for over two months to put on this show was appreciated, as evidenced by the turn-away crowds on Friday and Saturday nights.

The entire show was under the direction of Mr. Jack Francis of East. Mr. Leroy Spitzer of East

This year's Senior Play, directed by Mrs. Mullen and assisted by Anne Watson, was Nuts in May. It is centered around the home of the actress Cornelia Otis Skinner (Vickie Robinson), her husband Alden, (Gary McGill) and their teenage son, Michael (Barry Fischer). Michael, who never cared much for girls unless they were interested in dinosaurs or rocks, asks two girls (Carol Gaither and Louise Champ), to his mother's opening night performance. Michael becomes a mixture of scientific preoccupation and boyish enthusiasm about his latest interest—girls. The interruption and interest of friends, television, Miss Skinner's fans, and Michael's parents add to the boy's confusion.

The play was packed with surprises and excitement from beginning to end. Others in the cast included, Carolyn Kirby, Anne Watson, Carol Selvidge, Sharon Ratzlaff, Linda Cole, Marlene Sommerfield, John Moen, Jim Jarvis, Julie Kersey and Bob Horish.

Queen Gail Fowler, Escort Gary Gius

This year's Pan American Assembly was held on April 27, 1960. Master of Ceremonies Charles McGregor and mistress of ceremonies Karin Loftus alternately introduced each princess and her escort upon her entrance which was accompanied by the music of the West High Dance Band. Princess Pam Morrow was escorted by Ken Olason. Princess JoAnn Streenan was escorted by Punk Duzinski. Princess Diane Stover was escorted by Gary McGill. Princess Doris Curtis was escorted by Denny Hudson. As Queen Gail Fowler entered with her escort Gary Gius, everyone rose to greet her. The highlight of the assembly was the crowning of the queen by Charles McGregor. Dorothy Moll and Linda Anderson spoke on the definition and importance of Pan American Day. Entertainment was provided by each of the language clubs. The German Club presented a skit illustrating the various attractions of Germany with Bruce Lambert as narrator. The Latin Club presented an interview type TV program. Spanish Club presented a Spanish version of Little Red Riding Hood. A can-can, featuring Mark Doubleday, was presented by the French Club. The Dance Band played a few numbers and then the assembly was concluded with the recessional.

CHOIR MEMBERS DISPLAY THEIR VOCAL TALENTS IN CONCERTS

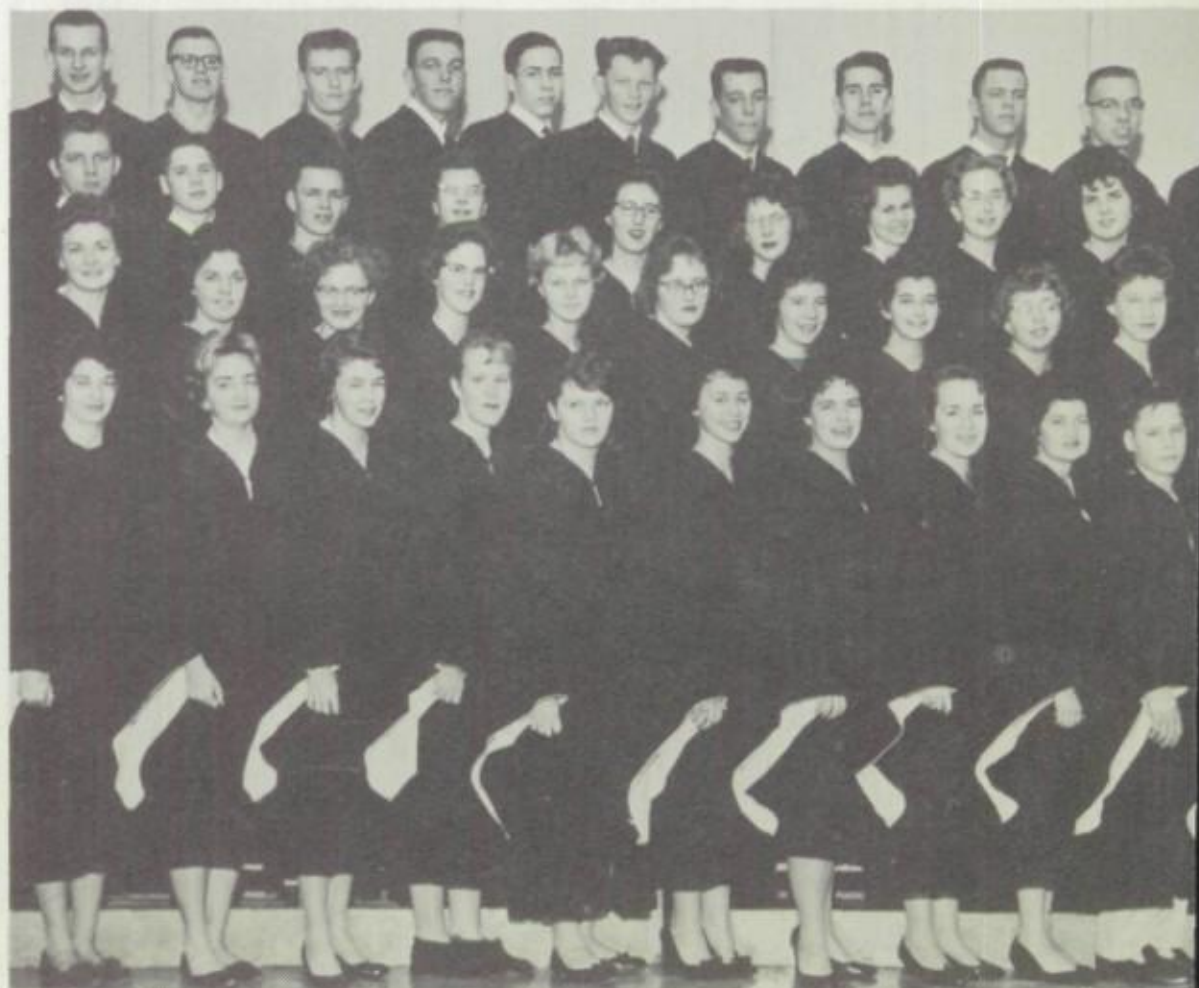

CHOIR

Under the direction of Mr. George Mantzke, the West High School choir is ranked as one of the finest in the state of Washington. Eight vocal soloists and five vocal ensembles attended the Western Washington Music Educators Association Contest at Franklin Pierce and the vocal department sent five members to All-State in Wenatchee. In the annual Christmas Concert, the orchestra and choir combined their talents to do two numbers from the "Messiah."

Going to the contest at Clover Park, Washington, was an honor for the members of the choir and an enjoyable experience. They received an excellent-plus rating. Another privilege was singing for the Easter Sunrise Service at Illahee State Park. Additional concerts were the East-West Concert, the annual Spring Concert, Baccalaureate, and graduating exercises.

MODERNAIRES

The Modernaires, an organization of carefully chosen voices, is a leading group in this community. This group was started by Mr. Ralph Manzo in 1953 and is continued under the present direction of Mr. George Mantzke. The number of the group varies from year to year and this year it consists of 35 members.

In addition to the regular performances at various service clubs—the Elks, the Eagles, the Odd Fellows, and Kiwanis—they have sung for the Naval Hospital, Country Club, Officers Wives, and many other organizations. They have also represented their school in exchange assemblies with South, East, and this year for the first time, Olympia.

The common interest of music shared by the members of Modernaires has brought them together socially, as well as in the classroom, for spaghetti feeds, Christmas parties, and outings.

1959-60 was the busiest year in the history of West High School Orchestra. Commencing with a performance at the Western Washington Fair at Puyallup the second week of school, orchestra continued on its busy schedule concluding with the Spring Concert on June 3. Sandwiched in between these dates were performances for many of the local civic, service and fraternal organizations in addition to the orchestra work connected with the Li'l Abner production. The orchestra only loses four string players and with one of the larger groups coming from Coontz, Mr. Bissell is looking forward to an even busier schedule for next year.

On February 13, 1960, Franklin-Pierce High School in Tacoma played host to the Western Washington Solo and Ensemble Contest. West High's vocal department sent eight vocal soloists, two piano soloists, and seven ensembles. Eleven of these entries received superior and eight received excellent ratings. Of the seventeen ensembles sent by the instrumental department, ten received superior and seven received excellent ratings. Four groups from West were selected among the ten most outstanding of contest.

Our soloists and ensembles performed for several fraternal organizations during the year.

As in past years, the West High Band continued on with its hectic pace, performing for audiences throughout the Puget Sound area and the Pacific Northwest.

Commencing with their performance at the State Fair in September, the band was kept busy with their football halftime shows, the Santa Claus Parade in Seattle, meeting ships at PSNS, the Christmas Concert, and the combined efforts with East High in producing the Broadway stage hit "Lil' Abner." In addition, the Pep Band played for basketball games, 20 ensembles entered the solo contest, and the band participated in the Band Contest.

Climaxing this busy year the band entered the International Band Festival where they made even more new friends and supporters of "The Pride of Puget Sound."

SONG AND CHEERLEADERS

The goal of the song and cheerleaders was to promote school spirit and to give our teams all the support and backing they needed. To help get new ideas and to work up new routines, they invited the pep squads of all the Capital league schools to West High for a pep conference. This year our song leaders were Robin Wright, Faye Wiggs, Judy Loga, Martha Bernier, and Song Queen Pat Streenan. The cheerleaders were Sharon Kuykendall, Nancy Womac, Karen Nelson, Gary Newbill and Cheer Queen Nancy Boustead.

Soaked with rain, splattered with mud, or shivering with cold, these leaders were at our football games singing and cheering our team through victory and defeat. And during basketball season, this same ten could be seen leading our pep section and promoting school spirit through win or loss.

MAJORETTES ENTERTAIN; FROSH CHEERLEADERS AID CLASS SPIRIT

MAJORETTES

When the majorettes are not twirling at games, parades, or ship receptions, they are busy working to improve their routines for these occasions. By using only five of the eight majorettes for each performance, Mr. Bissell has kept the individual competition very keen. The majorettes are very proud of their new "middy" style uniforms which were personally designed for them, and used this past football season for the first time. JoAnn Horn served as head majorette this year.

FROSH SONG AND CHEERLEADERS

The job of the freshman song and cheerleaders is to create interest in the freshman sports and to support their teams as much as possible. The three song and cheerleaders whose task it was to stir up school spirit for the freshman teams were Princesses Mary Garot and Priscilla Cohen, and their Queen, Joyce Reinbold. These three young cheerleaders played an important part in supporting future varsity teams.

The Drill Team consists of thirty-four members and is under the direction of Mr. George Mantzke. In the fall, the captain was Sieglinde Rislov and co-captain was Barbara Whittaker. At the semester, Barbara became captain with Dixie Miller as her co-captain. The officers for this year are Joyce Haddock, president; Pat Bard, vice president; Rhea Jean Spears, secretary-treasurer; and Bobbi Nestos, activette.

The Drill Team marches for many school and outside activities. Among its activities this year were marching at football and basketball games at school, the Santa Claus Parade in Seattle, the Christmas Parade in Bremerton, meeting the ships at PSNS, and marching at many other events. These high-stepping girls not only march but make up a large portion of the Pep Club.

The West High football team, under the direction of Coach Semancik, ended its second season of play in the Capital League with a record of 4 wins and 4 losses. Since competition was keen, several losses were by only one point.

The team elected Bruce Carter as the Honorary Captain, Gary Blackwood as Mr. Football, and Jerry Prowse as the Inspirational player.

In the Capital League, West took first place for total offense with an average of 234 yards per game; 85 per cent of this was by ground.

Bruce Carter, tackle, was elected to the first team of the All Capital League team. Gary Blackwood, guard, and Charlie Burrell, halfback, made the second team. Honorable mention was given to Joe Fletcher, fullback; Jerry Prowse, halfback, and Larry Gillespie, tackle. All of them are seniors with the exception of Larry Gillespie, who is a junior this year.

West started and ended the season by beating cross-town rival East. West won the first game, 14-7, and the Wildcats showed real finesse and teamwork as they stomped the Knights, 45-13, at the last game.

The Wildcats finished their 1959-60 season with a five won and 15 loss record against unusual strength in both leagues in which they competed, the Capital League and the Olympic League.

Seniors on this year's team included John Peterson, Jack Demick, Ken Olason, Doyle Hill, and Ted Liner who showed good team spirit and outstanding sportsmanship at all games.

The highlights of their season were the double overtime win over Lincoln of Tacoma with the score of 43-41 and the thrilling victory over their neighbors and rivals, East, with the score of 67-46. In this game West scored their highest total of points and held East to one of their lowest point totals.

Team captain, Ted Liner, was elected to the All-Capital League team with an average of 13.4 points and 14.5 rebounds per game.

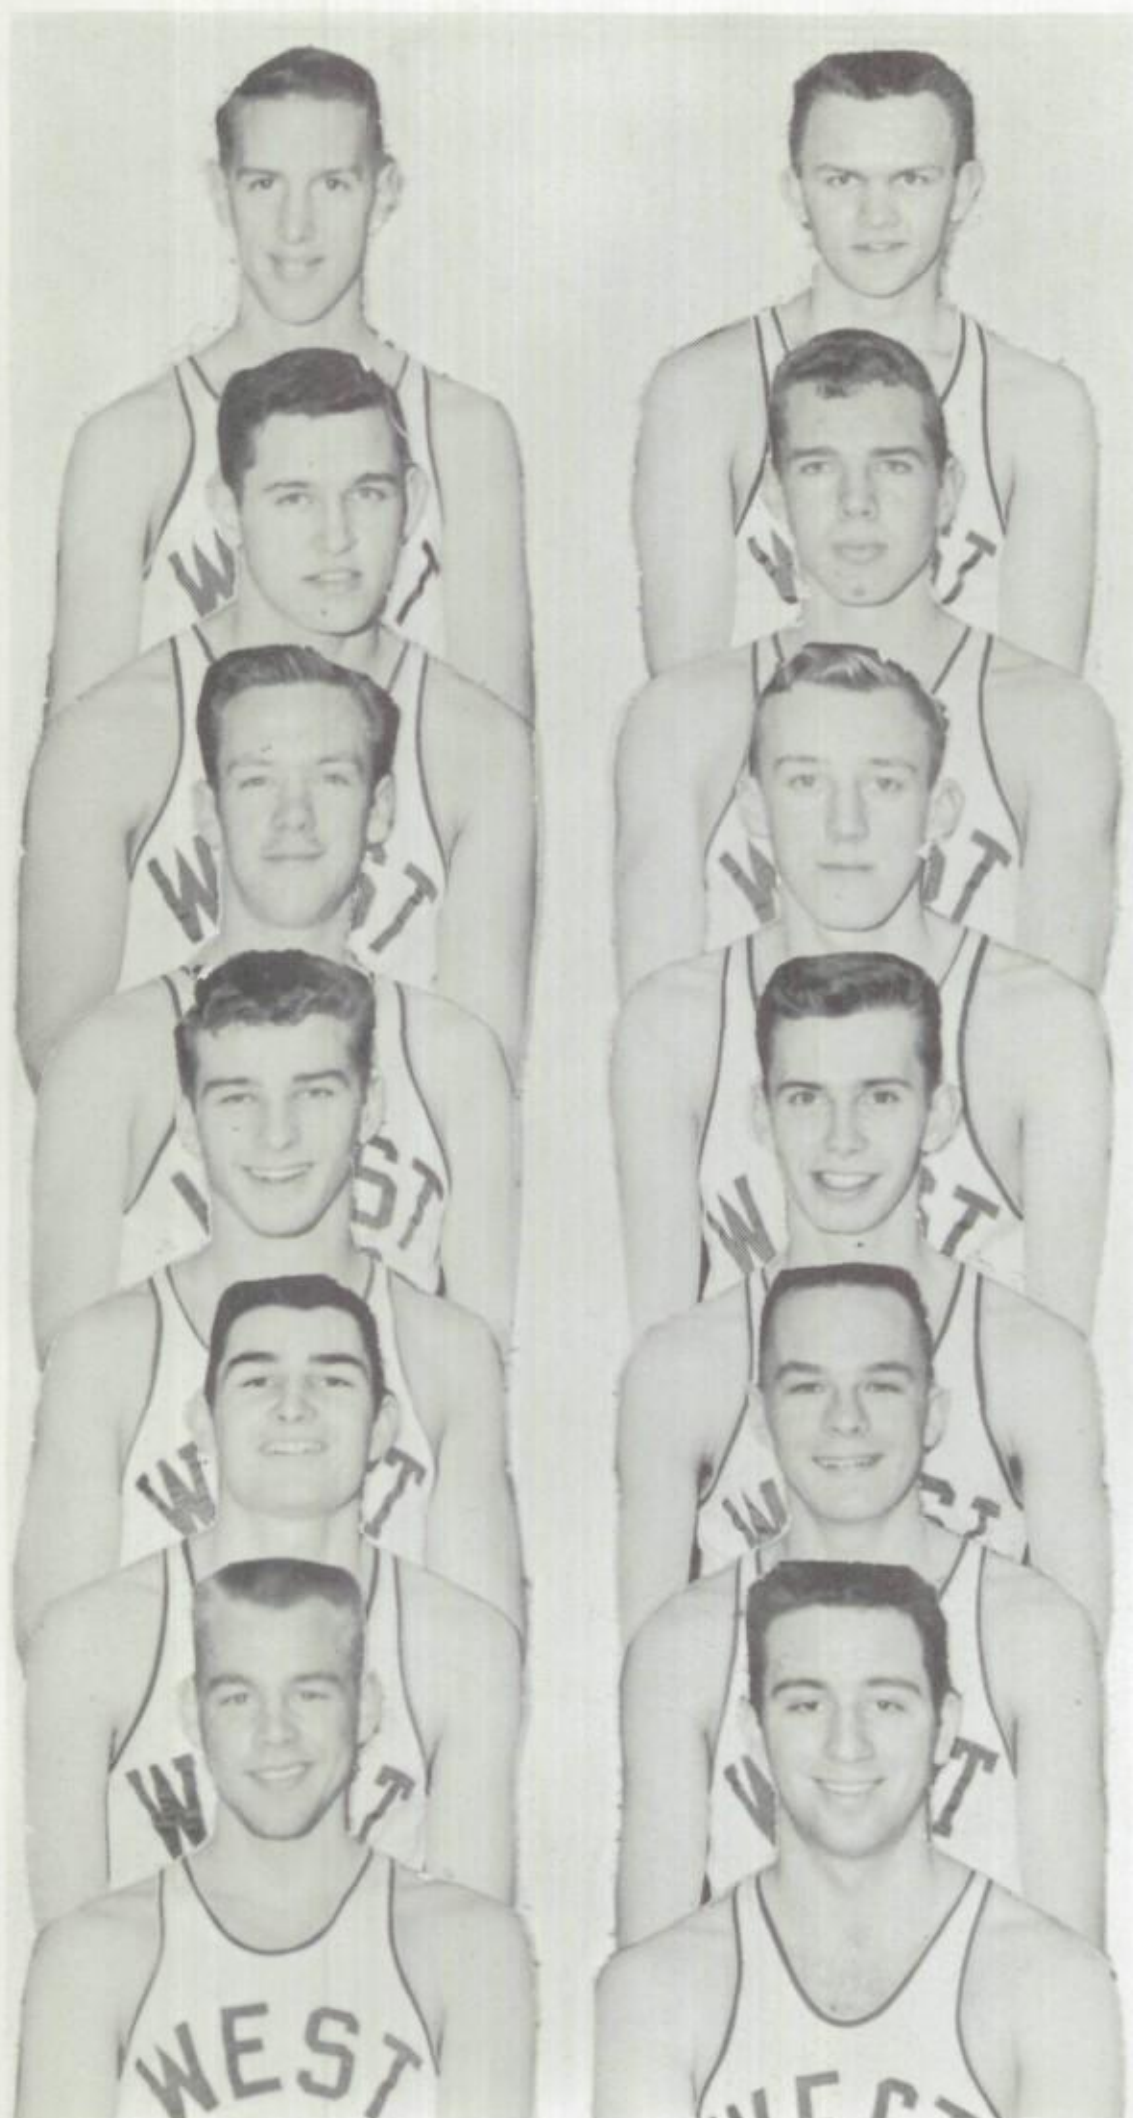

The student body, which backed the team to the limit at all games, was sad to see the season close; but looks forward to next year and another season of basketball.

Senior guard John Peterson goes up for two points against South as Doyle Fleming is unsuccessful in his checking attempt.

Wildcats Doyle Hill and Ted Liner vie for a rebound in the first East-West game. East players are Jim Garrison, Roy Busse, and Merideth Leismann.

The Sophomore basketball team ended its second year in the Capital League with 15 wins and five losses, winning the last seven games in a row to tie with East High School for first place.

The leading scorer was Eddie Aronin, one of the greatest prospects to come along in recent years, with an average of 18 points per game. Bob Beller and Steve Bramwell also were outstanding scorers with an average of 11 points and 10 points per game respectively.

The spirit of the team was wonderful and although the sophomore team lacked size, it made up for it with shooting and good team defense.

If determination is indicative of success, we can expect a bright basketball future from this team.

Fred Kegel led the babecats in scoring with an 8.6 average per game. He was closely followed by Steve Schumacher.

Although the frosh hoopsters were defeated by East early in the season, they came back strong to trounce their cross-town rivals 29-21 as the season drew to a close.

Another highlight was the first North Kitsap game when West came from behind in the fourth quarter to surprise the Vikings 37-35.

Coach Duane Carlton feels that these freshmen will be fine additions to future varsity teams.

The Wildcat speedster Charlie Burrell, tied the school low hurdle record with a 21.9 performance at South Kitsap meet to help West win 71-47. Joe Karchesy received Honorary Captain award and Rene Davis received KBRO award. Joe was outstanding in the shot put and Rene was victorious as the half-miler.

A new relay, the mile, was introduced to track, and West was fortunate to have two teams. One was a sophomore team comprised of Jerry Soriano, Jim Woodard, Jerry Murphy, and Tom Hamilton, which ran most of the season.

WILBUR WADE

The 1960 Wildcat baseball schedule started out on an extremely wet note with inclement weather forcing postponement of 10 of the first 11 games. The first four weeks of the schedule found only 1 game played, that a loss to Shelton, 7-5. Finally on April 22 the make-up games started.

Captain Doyle Hill was incapacitated by a bad back, which hurt the offense as Doyle was the leading hitter in '59. Although the pitching and catching staff did well, inability to hit in the clutches and poor defensive play were costly.

Swim team members practice for meets. STANDING—Dave Devin, Chris Olson. DIVING—Jim Nugent, Bill Olsen, Bill Morton.

This was a highly successful season for the West High Swim team, enabling them to go to the State Swim Meet. West High swimmers had first place finishes in half of the available events, but because of lack of depth, opposing Capital League Schools were able to win on the strength of steady second and third place points. Against arch-rival, East High Knights, West twice rose to the challenge and won resounding victories in both city contests.

Due to illness, an outstanding medley relay team consisting of Dick Bush, Bob Williams, Dave Ainsworth, and Jim Nuggent, was unable to compete at the State Meet, but Dick Bush's fifth place win in the 100-yard back stroke and Bob William's sixth in the 200-yard free style were sufficient to give West a ninth place finish at the Washington State High School Swimmers Meet.

The team learned very much this year and looks forward to future years of wrestling for West High.

The motto for the Girls Athletic Association is "A girl for every sport, a sport for every girl." If a girl enjoys teamwork, she would enjoy bowling, basketball, volleyball, baseball, and tumbling. If she prefers to work alone, she can participate in badminton, ping pong, and archery.

A girl has to attend a sport for a certain number of times before she can claim points for that sport. She may also acquire points by officiating at games. To be qualified to do this, she must first pass a written test. She is then a member of the Girls Intramural Officiating Association. After she has attended the sports offered and has accumulated 500 points for the year, she receives a letter at the Awards Banquet and is eligible to wear one stripe on her sweater.

Dear Sandy,

Well, we finally made it. It's a great feeling isn't it? It is a little sad to be graduating though, and a little frightening. Even though at times we've sure hated high-school we'll soon realize that these years were the best! It has really been great having you as a

SOCIAL STUDIES MEMBERS COLLECT FOR CLOTHING DRIVE

The Social Studies Club began its activities by sponsoring a queen candidate for Homecoming. In October they presented the United Nations Assembly. Congressman Tollefson was the speaker and music was furnished by the String Quartette. One of the highlights of the assembly was the introduction of three foreign students currently attending our school.

We participated in an "Eye Glass" collection for the Altrusa Club, a local group, and later in the year we cooperated with other schools in the nation on the "World Clothing Drive."

The object of the National Honor Society is to create an interest in scholarships, to stimulate a desire to render service, to promote leadership and to encourage the development of character.

Among the considered requirements for membership are that each student must be a junior or senior classman, must excel in leadership, scholarship, character and service. Each student must also gain the recommendation of the faculty.

This year's officers are: President, Paul Halvorsen; Vice-President, Jim Sullivan; Secretary, Beverly Brooks; Treasurer, Diane Scott; Sergeant-at-Arms, Mike Sullivan; Inter-Club Council Representative, Susan Maughan, and Adviser, Miss Hayford.

Among this year's activities was the exchange visit between Victoria's Mount View High School and West High, and the sponsoring of a queen candidate for Homecoming. National Honor also has the responsibility of maintaining and operating the Cat Cave which is a great convenience to the student body in obtaining school supplies. In the spring it is traditional for the society to sponsor the honor student banquet in recognition of those students who have shown outstanding scholastic achievement.

Every year National Honor is privileged in sponsoring a scholarship to help finance and further the education of a deserving student with the presentation of the Bob Thorson Memorial Scholarship.

West High School's Chamber of Commerce is largely a service organization, and its primary function each year is planning and producing the Homecoming activities. Homecoming is usually held in the fall; and its many activities include publicity, the election of the court, the coronation assembly, car caravan and dance. "Blue Velvet," the theme for this year's Homecoming, established an elegant background for the assembly; a gilded path among silver stars led the way to the thrones where the coronation was held amid a huge gold crown. "Queen Judie" was written at the top of this elaborate crown with the princesses' names written on its descending tiers.

tory, qualifications, special opportunities in foreign service, and in schools for the handicapped and exceptional children. This is done through movies and special speakers. Senior members are encouraged to participate in the cadet teaching program. This provides an opportunity to go to the elementary school and assist teachers with their classes. Latin Club had a busy year. During November nineteen delegates attended the Junior Classical League State Convention at Puyallup High School.

Many hectic hours were spent preparing the club's entertainment for the Language Banquet. The skit, "The King's Court," was based on a violin arrangement by Connie Gawenka and Susan Miller. Latin Club was fortunately in charge of the most important committee, Clean-up.

The West High Chapter was assigned the duty of publishing the November issue of the Vox Latina (Voice of Latin), the state-wide Latin paper. With the support of the members and the commercial department, the paper was published.

The Club was the guest of East High at the group's annual visitation, which included stunts, slave auction, refreshments, and a dance.

Highlighting the year, the club sent eight High School students to the Capital Teen Convention in Washington, D.C., at Christmas.

THEIR SUPPORT OF ALL SCHOOL ACTIVITIES PROMOTES SPIRIT

For this, their second year, the Lettermen chose Bruce Carter, president; Joe Fletcher, vice-president; Gary Gius, secretary-treasurer; Gary Blackwood, sergeant-at-arms; and Mike Sullivan, Inter-club Council representative.

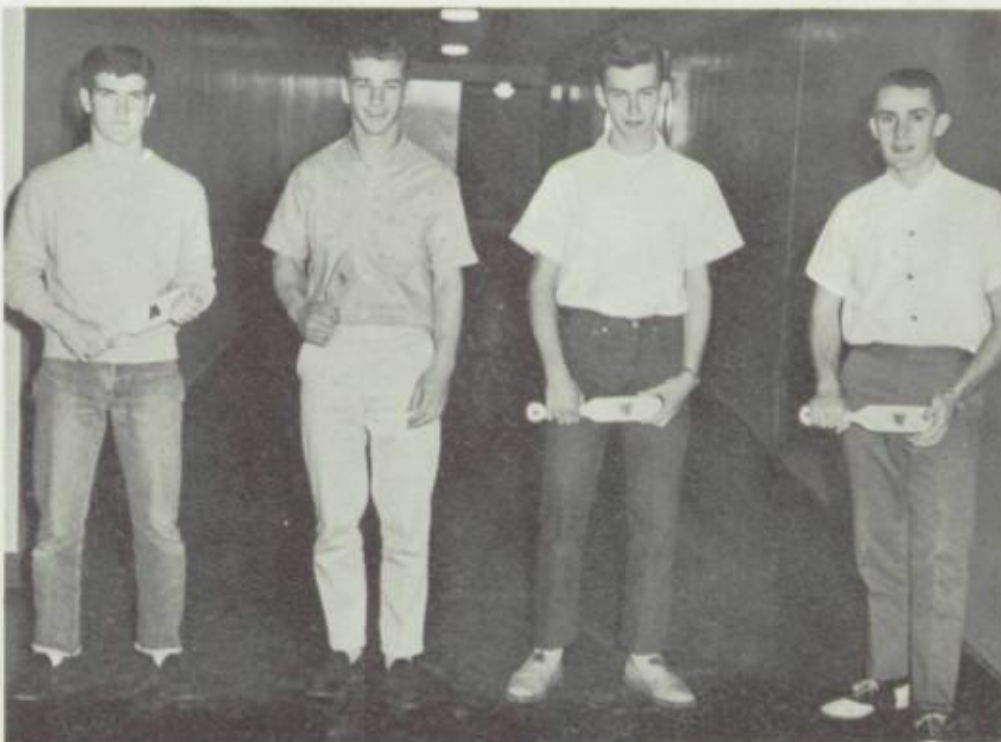

The club's big money-making affair, was the sponsorship of a basketball game between the nationally - famous Harlem Clowns and the Bremerton All-Stars, made up of local faculty and businessmen led by our own adviser, Wayne "Hooks" Jensen. A good share of the proceeds were contributed to the school for the foreign exchange student fund.

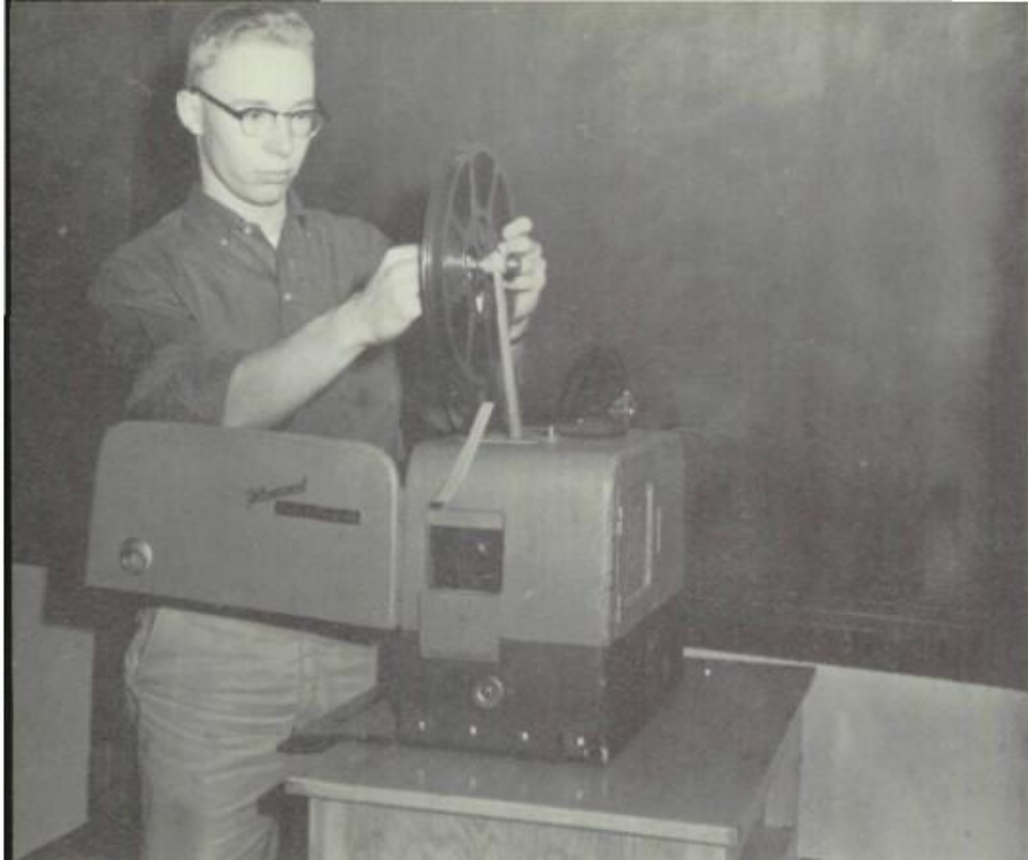

Lettermen sponsored the candidacy of homecoming queen Judie Parker. Club members served as a paddle squad for football and basketball games. Another highlight of the year was the initiation of new members in the spring.

As a special activity for some of the club members, a basketball team was entered in the boys' city league. Coached again by "Hooks," the team survived the season to tie for second place in the league.

Next year the club looks forward to scheduling dances and sponsoring activities for not only the betterment of the Lettermen's club, but also for the betterment of West High School.

ninety per cent of the meetings to be eligible for a letter in the spring.

Officers this year were: Bill Arness, President; Ken Sargent, Vice-President; Richard Gowler, Secretary, and Gary McDougal, Student Council Representative. Mrs. Carter schedules the film, equipment, and operators. Mr. Richardson is adviser to the club.

During the football games, Pep Club members lined up on the field and formed a "tunnel" for the team as they ran on to the gridiron.

Members painted for basketball season flash cards spelling out players names and short cheers. These were quite impressive against a background of white blouses.

Dear Sandy,

Well, this is it. We're on our way out into the cruel old world and even though we are anxious to get out of here, ~~it~~ probably won't be too long before we regret it.

I guess we can both say we've had our share of fun all through school. I can remember when I was in your study hall and you sat in front of me and was always hitting me on the head to wake me up. And also I enjoyed being your escort and I think you made the most beautiful princess ever.

Now I want to say something that means a great deal more to me than what I have been saying.

Sandy, now that we understand each other a little better, you mean everything to me. I don't quite know what to say though because I really don't know how you feel about me. I know we've had quite a few fights and that I'm hard to get along with at times but for the last week now, we've got along just perfect and I hope it lasts. Whatever I do next year all depends on you. I want to make you happy and for you to be happy with me. I do care about you, Sandy and I never want to lose you.

All my love, always
Dave

ADMINISTRATION

WE PROUDLY PRESENT OUR WEST HIGH ADMINISTRATORS

Students, your challenge has never been greater. Never before have high school students been faced with the competition and the challenge as do the graduates of 1960.

Time was when a student could step out of school and, to a great extent, chart his own route toward his field of endeavor. The same is true today except that on every hand there are far greater standards that must be met. It is these standards more than anything else that offer the competition. True enough, in engineering, in science, in foreign affairs, in teaching and in many other endeavors, opportunities are great but the hurdles over which you must go before reaching your goal are higher. Greater preparation is necessary, whatever the field.

Today, more than any other time, one needs the ability to get along with others. More jobs are lost because a person fails to get along with others than because he does not have sufficient knowledge of his work. The experiences that you have in your classes, and your everyday contact with faculty and students should be of great value in the all important adjustment that you must make in the work-a-day world.

Statistics on the great increase of interest in mathematics, science and foreign languages, to mention only a few fields, are today very, very gratifying and certainly are indicative of the fact that the majority of the students are availing themselves of the opportunities offered.

FRED N. GRAHAM

There is no other book quite like an American high school or college yearbook. The chief function of the yearbook is the same as it has always been; a memory book, a family album of the school. A second function of the annual is to record a complete and accurate history of a year's activities.

In addition to the two chief functions of the yearbook, its production gives valuable training to the student staff members. Then too, if the book is well done it creates good will for the school.

Writing a "message" for it, then to last fifty years, is almost presumptuous. But you editors have given the assignment, and I'm glad to try.

Here is the message: Genius is only the power of making continuous efforts. The line between failure and success is so fine that we scarcely know when we pass it; so fine that we are often on the line and do not know it. Many a man has thrown up his hands at a time when with a little more effort, and a little more patience, would have achieved success. There is no failure except in no longer trying. There is no really insurmountable barrier save our own inherent weakness of purpose.

WITHOUT THESE PEOPLE OUR SCHOOL COULD NOT RUN EFFICIENTLY

It takes more than teachers and administrators to operate a school. We need custodians to keep the building clean, an office staff to keep records, and a cafeteria staff to prepare and serve lunches.

Our office staff is composed of three efficient women: Irene Armitage, Dot Avery, and Eleanor Carter. These women work behind the scenes doing such things as recording grades, helping students register and preparing transcripts for future use. The custodians' work is un-ending.

Each day is spent repairing and cleaning so that the premises are in tip-top shape. Mac Castle, head custodian; Ray Ittner, and William Barager may be found around the school, working diligently and with a smile on their faces. Around noon we are introduced to some very important members of our school, the cafeteria staff. Lunch is very important to help us through the rest of the day, and school lunches are always well prepared. And so we see the importance of each person to the well-being of our school.

Jean Dunsmoor carries on a telephone conversation, while Becky Basner, Irene Armitage and Dot Avery finish office work.

Custodians, Ray Ittner, William Barager and Mac Castle take a brief rest before continuing their work.

 And bright in heaven's golden crown,

Dear Sandy,

I'm glad we had a class together so we could become better friends. Now you can "quit" Journalism for good. I think you are one of the most beautiful princesses West has ever had.

Good luck in everything you do, Love Glenda Sage

Dear Sandy,

Glad I got to know you, ya drip. I really think you a sweetie, so stay that way, forever darling, okay.

I've really had some fun this year not running around together very much, but I got a thrill anyway saying hi to you in the hall. Hope things work out for you the way you want and have fun this summer. You're lucky, you don't have to come back to this joint. I bet, this picks?

Keep it hanging it up for now - see ya around (when you head over)

Love ya,
Carol

Dear Sandy,

our high school days are finally over, it doesn't seem possible. We really had a ball. It's too bad all of us girls couldn't have gotten along better, because it probably would have been a lot more enjoyable. I'll always remember the fun though. I think that we were very lucky to have had so many good friends. You'd really be surprised to know how many good friends you do have. I hope that graduation doesn't end our friendship well all be together many more years, even if just in memories. I want to wish you all the happiness possible, and I also hope all your problems work out the way you want them. They will! I hope you always make the right decisions because you really have a good future ahead of you. Well enough of blubber, I'm probably tiring you. Well have to get together this summer and have some fun!! Stay the way you are -
God bless you always

Love

(Betty)
